

TPA724 Offering – Software Development and Package Integration

TPA724

At TPA724, our focus is making technology work for your unique needs and processing services as a Third-Party Administrator in the insurance marketplace. Our Development Services provide expertise and experience throughout your full business lifecycle - from process excellence through package integration or custom software development such as internal and external web portals, legacy integration, mobile applications, and other user-centric applications that work for you and your Employers, Brokers and Carriers. It's now possible to give your customers what they expect.

The Right Approach – For all of your lines of business, our approach is grounded in deep process knowledge with a full understanding of the intricacies of all core TPA operations. We leverage our experience on each of our engagements to accomplish an outstanding experience for each of your customer types and for your internal users. We will blueprint, build, implement and support the specific software solution that makes the most sense for you and for your customer's needs – including versatile web portals for your Employers, Carriers and Brokers that will put them to work for you! When appropriate, we will leverage more value from your existing systems, making your business more adaptive and agile – allowing you to take advantage of market opportunities that your systems may not have supported in the past. Our modern technology approach and legacy system experience includes building and maintaining all product types for any point in the lifecycle including Worksite Individual, Group Voluntary, and Portals for L&H, P&C, and Many Specialties.
